

Diagonal Triple Parisian Stitch

Diagonal Triple Parisian is a fun stitch that works up quickly. It's great for sky, water, greenery, gingerbread houses, walls, clothing and backgrounds. It works for just about everything!

It also works well with just about every thread. Select a thread that covers the canvas completely when stitched on the diagonal, or combine several plies of a strand-able thread to create the necessary coverage. Using a larger, non-plyed thread will give you a more textured look, while using a strand-able thread and laying your stitches will give you a more satiny finish.

There are two variations shown above. The top variation is the original. The bottom variation is a smaller version we've been using with great success as it fits a wider variety of areas.
